Craig Gabel is a Retirement Plan Specialist with Farmers Retirement Plan Services, a specialized team of subject matter experts within Farmers National Bank. In that role, Craig's purpose is to help employers and employees gain access to easy to use, easy to understand and affordable workplace retirement plans.

After spending almost 30 years in the financial services industry, with the most recent 13 years focusing solely on assisting employers with implementing and/or managing their workplace retirement plans, he has come to realize that retirement plans should benefit employees today and not just in retirement.

Prior to joining Farmers in 2018, Craig had his own consulting practice and had worked with Principal Financial Group as a Relationship Manager covering Northern Ohio.

Craig holds the CPFA (Certified Plan Fiduciary Advisor) designation as well as series 7 and 66 securities licenses.

Craig, his wife and 4 children live in Streetsboro. When he's not on a Zoom meeting or learning about new retirement plan legislation, he is an avid golfer, coaches youth basketball and acts as a part-time official navigating his children's sibling squabbles.
